

Water Retention Agent For Additive In Drying Feed Litters

WELLDONESAP products can also be used as an additive in drying feed litters used in breeding farms to replace the old generation of phosphate based-litters. This new generation of animal drying litter has many benefits:

- A better comfort for the animals due to a dryer bedding environment.
- A reduction of the odors.
- An improvement of the fertilizing value of manure due to a better fixation of ammonia.
- A better respect for the environment as it is a phosphat-free product.
